

At AIDPRESSO by Giveafew the welfare of our customers and staff is our highest priority.

As a non-profit organization, we are committed to offering you, as a coffee lover a delicious experience whenever you would like to join us and have taken every possible steps – what we could – to provide your daily coffee in spite of the COVID-19 critical situation.

We have taken all of the necessary health regulations to continue providing our service, who order from us – enhanced disinfection, health-checking all of our staff and working with our suppliers to ensure they are taking all possible measures too.

To enjoy your daily coffee at home, we are offering you a contact-free home delivery option by cooperating courier companies.

These are hard times for all providers, although we hope that you & your loved ones are keeping calm, healthy and will enjoy our product at home.
